

New Content Every Day

At smartcockpit.com, we talk about learning as a mental process that leads to lasting change in knowledge, behavior, or both. A key word to notice in that sentence is 'process.' It's not an outcome - it's a series of actions. You need to learn something new every day to keep growing.

A new multiple-choice questionnaire in a dedicated QUIZ section, a new flying-technique related document in the FLIGHT OPS section, a new SAFETY investigation report... There is new content every day at smartcockpit.com!

Continuous learning is a crucial component of self-directed leadership development, and it helps pilots think critically and creatively.
